The Memorial Cross (known also as the Silver Cross) was instituted after World War I, on Dec. 1st, 1919. It is granted to the mothers and widows of Canadian Armed Forces personnel who died in service, or whose death was attributed to their service.

A token of personal loss and sacrifice, the Memorial Cross is suspended by a bar brooch. At the end of the upright is a crown; at the other three points, a maple leaf. In the centre, within a wreath of laurel, is the royal cypher of the reigning monarch: GRI for King George the Fifth, GVIR for King George the Sixth, or EIIR for Elizabeth the Second. The reverse of the Cross is engraved with the name and service number of the individual commemorated.

Every year, a National Silver Cross Mother is selected by the Royal Canadian Legion and invited to lay a wreath on Remembrance Day at the National War Memorial in Ottawa on behalf of all mothers who lost children in military service to Canada. During her year-long tenure, which begins on November 1st, she performs other official duties, as required.

This year's Silver Cross mother is Virginia Hicks, whose daughter, Mariebeth, a member of the 2nd Combat Engineer Regiment, died when her Light Armoured Vehicle rolled during a 2002 training exercise on in Petawawa. In 2024, the Silver Cross mother was Maureen Anderson from Oromocto (originally from Blackville). The deaths of her sons, Ron (2014) and Ryan (2017), were attributed to their military service.

As Christians, the Silver Cross mother, reminds us of the Blessed Virgin Mary who stood at the foot of the Cross on Good Friday, watching, as Jesus died. On Easter Day, she would realize the truth of today's Epistle, that nothing shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.
